Annual Fund program 1967-1968 to stress personal appeals

Stressing the personal approach, the 1967-1968 Juniata Fund Program for Annual Gifts launches the most ambitious drive in its history to assure the finest education for Juniata students.

President Ellis, commenting on the personal appeal to contributors, said "traditionally at Juniata the importance of the individual is paramount. The personal relationship between people has always been our strength and we desire this characteristic in our Development Programs."

The Fund will be a cooperative effort among Alumni, Church, Parents and Friends to provide the College with vital unrestricted annual gifts.

Funds raised in the Annual Giving drive are urgently needed for educational projects, facilities, instructional equipment, student aid, and cultural activities. The Fund will begin in September 1967 and continue through June 1968 with the enlistment of volunteers and active solicitation commencing in October.

The Alumni Fund is under the leadership of Joseph R. Good '33, volunteer fund director. The Alumni Annual Fund Committee consisting of Henry H. Gibbel '57, Robert R. Hoover '43 and Klare S. Sunderland '56 will conduct a vigorous drive to build the membership in the $100, $500 and $1,000 Annual Giving Clubs. This will be done along with expanded class fund agent programs and "eyeball and eardrum" campaigns.

Congregations of the Church of the Brethren will be asked for increased support. Personal contacts with interested supporters is of prime importance to Chairman George L. Detweiler and the Trustees named by the three supporting districts: Attorney Robert M. Keim from Western Pennsylvania, Miss Naomi Kessinger from Middle Pennsylvania and Rev. Wayne H. Dick from the North Atlantic District.

A corps of 100 women volunteers will spark the Parents Fund Drive to explain the needs and challenges facing higher education. Chairman is Mrs. Roy W. Brandau of New Holland, Pa. She will be assisted by President Nelson F. Robbins, Vice-President Donald F. Hoover of the Parents Association and the Parents Executive Committee.

Denton B. Emmert '36, of the Ford Motor Company, heads the Committee for Matching Gifts. Contributors will be encouraged to request that their gifts be matched by corporations under the Aid-To-Education Program of business and industry. Financial support in 1968 is expected to increase under the direction of dedicated volunteers according to Harold B. Brumbaugh, vice-president for development.

92nd academic year opens

Juniata opens the 92nd academic year September 19 with an enrollment of approximately 1,100. In the freshman class, consisting of 135 women and 175 men, will be two Koreans and one each from Colombia, the Dominican Republic and Greece.

The start of the fall term follows hard on the heels of a highly successful Summer Sessions in which enrollment soared 80 per cent above the previous year.

Dr. Earl C. Kaylor, Jr. noted that all the classes listed in the summer catalog attracted students. One of the accomplishments in which he took satisfaction was the successful integration of high school students in the college level courses.

Newspaper and radio attention was focused on the new Field Study in Anthropology under Paul Heberling, associate professor of sociology. This was conducted in cooperation with Penn State and supervised by Dr. Joseph Michels. Late in the summer an Indian skeleton was uncovered at a new site on the Raystown Branch.

The fall term will see the introduction of a new major in medieval studies. The new Academic Classroom Center will be ready for occupancy in December. It will be used by the Language Department and the Social Science Division.

The medieval major will offer courses presently in the academic program but will be structured around five "core" courses: Ancient Civilization, Introduction to the History and Criticism of Art, Medieval Latin, History of Medieval Europe and Special Topics. Majors may be in medieval history or in medieval linguistics.

$14,400 received in grants

Juniata College, in recent months, has received five grants totaling $14,400 from various institutions to be used by diverse departments of the College.

A $5,000 grant was received from the Clinical Research Division of the Sandoz Pharmaceuticals Company of Hanover, N. J. The grant was presented to Dr. Ellis by Dr. Harry L. Baird, Juniata '48, who is Director of Clinical Research of the Sandoz Company.

Dr. Jerome K. Merlis, a Trustee of the Grass Foundation, which is the corporate foundation of the Grass Instrument Company of Quincy, Mass., presented Juniata with a $2,000 grant to be used by the Department of Biology.

The Juniata College Development Program was the recipient of a check for $2,000 from the Atlantic-Richfield Foundation. Mr. Harold M. Calhoun, manager of the Altoona District for Atlantic-Richfield presented the grant to the College.

Juniata received a $5,000 grant from the government for library resources under Title II of the Higher Education Act of 1965. The grant is the second received by Juniata and the amount must be matched by the College. The money is to be used to purchase library materials and resources.

The Presser Foundation Music Scholarship, a $400 grant for tuition purposes, has been received. It will be awarded to an undergraduate, preferably one who plans to teach music.

Last year the scholarship was awarded to Miss Susan Loose of Lebanon who graduated in June with a B.S. degree.

New Board Members

Dr. Ellis announced that four new members of the Board of Trustees assumed their duties at the recent Spring meeting.

The new trustees include Mr. Cecil E. Loomis, chairman of the board, Columbia Gas System, Inc., New York City; Dr. Thomas R. Miller, president, Chemicals Division, Union Carbide Corp., New York City; Mr. Charles M. Rice, CPA, Rice and Rice, Altoona, Pa.; and the Rev. Wayne H. Dick, Green Tree Congregation, Oaks, Pa.

Juniata graduates largest class

The largest graduating class in the history of Juniata College, 195 strong, was told to prepare themselves for the challenges of the year 2000 by Dr. Vera Micheles Dean, speaker at the 91st annual Commencement held on June 4th.

Dr. Dean, author and foreign policy expert, is Professor of International Development at the Graduate School of Public Administration, New York University. She received the honorary degree, Doctor of Laws.

President Ellis conferred 83 bachelor of arts degrees and 112 bachelor of science degrees. The candidates were presented by the Dean of Academic Affairs, Dr. Donald M. Rockwell. Dr. John C. Baker, chairman of the Board of Trustees, presided.

The following academic honors were awarded: Summa Cum Laude, Janet Louise Kauffman, Helen Louise Good; Magna Cum Laude, Maxine Elaine Phillips, Mary Ann Harsanyi; Cum Laude, John Errol Shiley, Jr., Philip Edward Jones, Judith Rae Hershey, Terry Eugene Reed, Carolyn Donna Wetzel, Marilyn Louise Deaney, and Christine Joann Bailey.

Trustee dies

Chalender H. Lesher, member of the Board of Trustees died following a brief illness August 4, 1967. He was Chairman of the Board in 1960. He gave generously to the College including the Memorial Fund in memory of his son killed in World War II.

FOOTBALL

Indians Will Feature Aerial Attack

A Little All American candidate at quarterback; a letterman at every position; 36 lettermen in all; the top five pass receivers and four out of the top five rushers returning. "Who could ask for anything more."

With a wealth of material on hand, head coach Fred Prender goes into the 1967 football campaign with high hopes of greatly improving on last year's 4-4 record.

Junior quarterback Don Weiss of Athens will again be at the helm for the Indians, and Juniata fans should prepare themselves for an aerial show, the likes of which has never before been seen at College Field.

13 Records

Weiss set three all-time and ten Middle Atlantic Conference Juniata records last season, including; Yards Passing, Season (1135); Passes Completed, Season (75); and Passes Completed, Career (145). Weiss completed 60% of his attempts in last year's eight game schedule.

Coach Prender has promised a wide open attack for 1967 and on the receiving end of many of the bombs will be Senior Co-Captain Denis Albright of Ephrata.

Albright led the Indians in receiving last year when he snagged 17 passes good for 427 yards; a whopping 25 yards per catch average.

The other Indian Co-Captain is Regis Schivley from Elizabeth. He spent the last two seasons at a linebacker spot, but this year has been shifted to center.

Defense Questionable

The defense is the only question mark as the season approaches. The two platoon system installed by Prender last year will continue in operation this season. The biggest job will be to shore up the defensive line. That honor falls mainly on the shoulders of the newest member of the coaching staff, Jerry Sandusky.

Sandusky, a 1965 graduate of Penn State, where he played defensive end and lettered for three years, will serve as head line coach. Bill Berrier will once again handle the offensive line and Larry Landini returns as backfield coach.

August 31st saw 58 candidates arrive on campus for pre-season head knocking. Hopefully, this could be the year that sees the Indians on November 11 sporting their best record since 1959's 7-1 log.

November 11 ..... (to be announced)

Cross Country Season Opens

Head coach and innovator of cross country at Juniata, P. M. (Mike) Snider begins his twelfth year at the helm of the Indian Harriers with high hopes.

Last season saw the Indians come out with a disappointing 3-7-1 record. (The tie, a rarity in cross country, came against Indiana State University and was the first in Juniata history). However, the top runners are back and 1967 promises to be a good year.

Captain Rick Beard, a junior from Annville, returns as the leading runner this year. In addition to copping four firsts last year, Beard also set the home course record for an Indian runner of 25:01 for the 4.6 mile jaunt.

Also back are letter winners Sid Lansberry, Jim Massingham, Aubrey Shenk, Kerry Stanley, Joe Rizzotti and Phil Sipling.

Juniata Briefs

Five Juniata graduates received their Master of Divinity degrees from Bethany Theological Seminary, Oak Brook, Illinois on May 22, 1967. They include Glen Richard Davis '62, Terry Luther Grove '64, John Harry Lengle '64, Ira Frank Lydic '64 and Bruce Elmer Rosenberger '63. The Commencement address was delivered by Dr. Luther H. Harshbarger, honorary '55, chairman, department of religious studies, Penn State.

Walter Edwin Conner, a sophomore from Downingtown, Pa., is one of 36 students from 26 colleges and universities in Pennsylvania who are participating in a summer program designed to acquaint them with medicine as a career.

A grant from the Smith, Kline and French Foundation has made it possible for Conner to observe surgery, medical research, hospital procedure and general practice.

Mr. Willard Trask, recent winner of the National Book Award for translation, will be the visiting professor in comparative studies during the 1967-68 academic year.

At present on a Bollingen Grant to translate Galician-Portuguese Medieval Poetry, Trask will teach comparative literature, lecture and read poetry. He is a self-employed translator who received acclaim for his translation of the Memoirs of Casanova.

Dr. Esther M. Doyle, acting Chairman of the English Department and Professor of English, has been named to the J. Downey Benedict Professorship Chair in English.

The Professorship, first held by Dr. Harold C. Binkley, long-time chairman of the English Department, was established in recognition of the contribution to Juniata College by John Downey Benedict of Waynesboro.

Dr. Doyle earned her B.L.I. in Oral interpretation at Emerson College (1935); her M.A. from Boston University (1940); and her Ph.D. at Northwestern University (1964). This summer she taught at the Institute for Advanced Study in English at the University of Arizona. She also served as Director of the Kaleidoscope Players, Raton, New Mexico.
